

Central Rural School Meeting at Highland, Reports Submitted

Highland, April 7.—Dr. Victor P. Salvatore and Miss Frances Fagan, dental hygienist, were present at the meeting of the trustees of the Central Rural district Friday evening at the school with reports of the dental examinations made during this school year and emphasizing the need of a greater amount of money in next year's budget, that a larger number of pupils may have the benefits of dental work. Miss Frances Fagan first told that the pupils in the first 4 grades had been examined, numbering 224. Of that number 786 cavities had been found and 325 abscessed teeth.

The proportion of bad teeth this year was 64 per cent, and last year 52 per cent. Miss Fagan gives tooth brush drills, diet talks also hygiene talks to the pupils, and was seeing results. Through the Lions Club, the Queen Esther Club and the P. E. O. three gross of tooth brushes have been distributed. One child having worn out her brush was using salt on a cloth, the benefits of clean teeth having its effect. The greatest improvement was found in the 7th and 8th grades. The cards used in a dental office showing the needs of work were examined by the trustees and questions asked. One boy was found with 11 cavities. This showed soft teeth and a lack of calcium in the system.

The results of the examination are sent to the parents but too few follow up by having the defects cared for. The Ganes Foundation acts aside a small sum each year for necessary work. One boy was reported as having gone to the dentist with a toothache and 8 abscessed teeth were found. He had two pulled at the time and was a student playing on the athletic games where he needed his full physical condition. Dr. Salvatore deplored the cut in the appropriation this year to $200, therefore fewer children could be cared for. Parents do not observe proper diets and the body is undernourished. He cited the Eastman clinics in leading cities and of his experiences in an institution where the children were given dental examinations every six months. In previous years the appropriation had been $400. C. Imbrie Richards moved that this subject be acted upon when the budget was prepared. Michael Cawley was present and asked how much authority a bus driver had to punish a child who would not obey a driver's orders. He was told to consult with the principal first before he used any authority. He then informed the trustees that pupils going north on the afternoon bus would go on the one he drove, thus over-crowding it, in place of waiting for a later one. John J. Gaffney, who is in charge of transportation, was to be advised of conditions and take the necessary action.

Burke Granted Increase.
The resignation of Miss Elizabeth Young having been received and accepted, it had been decided at a previous meeting to have but one physical director for the coming year and Willard T. Burke was re-engaged at an increase in salary. He is to receive $2,400. This action was thought best as a matter of economy upon a motion of William H. Maynard. The state has recommended that teachers carry out a physical director's methods and thus aid in reducing expenses. Treasurer's report presented showed a balance of $8,197 on hand and that the second payment of state aid money had not been received. It was also stated that the insurance money from the burning of the Oakes school had been paid and was kept in a separate account. District Superintendent Ralph Johnson, Mr. Coons, of the state education department, with Mrs. Rose, president of the local board, William H. Maynard and Philip T. Schantz, committee for that school, had visited the Oakes neighborhood and the report of what had been seen was to go to Mr. Hickson, of the department.

School Painting Needed.
C. I. Richards reported for the Wilklow school that interior painting was badly needed. He had ascertained that the labor would cost $15 and the district purchase the paint. It was voted to do this during the Easter vacation. It was also reported that the fire alarms, ringing throughout the building at any and all times. The firm who had installed the system had agreed to send a supervising electrician if the district would have a local electrician and necessary materials ready to do the repairs during vacation. The guess was that there was a short circuit somewhere and the wiring had been in use many years and was in need of replacements. In the meantime part of the system had been cut off to insure quiet. Mr. Lent and Mr. Richards were the committee to see to repairs as well as replacing the plaster which had fallen in the first grade room, where Mrs. Ploss teaches. Mrs. Rose said she had been informed there were old toilets stored in the building and there had been an inquiry as to the price of four of them. She was empowered to sell for the best price.

The clerk, A. W. Lent, had one contract returned with the request for a year's leave of absence and had returned the following year. Since the population of the community does not insure tenure of office this would be setting a precedent that is not advisable. The teacher would be advised that she might have five days in which to reconsider her decision. The principal was given authority to purchase the necessary new window shades for the art room and in the room used by Mrs. Clarence Tompkins. It was asked that the principal have all the requisitions needed in grades and departments to present at the May meeting when the budget is considered.

The uncompleted tennis courts were talked over and it was estimated that $300 would be needed to have them ready for use. It is resurfacing and equipment that is now necessary.

Sweaters for Team.
Mr. Richards had a communication from W. T. Burke for the physical department regarding the purchase of sweaters as special awards. These would have the letter H on them. He reported that the local knitting mill had made a special price and the eight required would cost in the neighborhood of $50. Since the receipts from the games played amount to $320 and been turned into the general fund it was voted that the sweaters be purchased.

Since there is a vacancy for the first two grades in the Vineyard avenue school a number of applications were referred to, of local applicants within a radius of 50 miles. The most of them were already teaching, but preferred to be nearer home. This will be decided later. The Agriculture Department had an offer to purchase some lumber together with a rack to hold the same. The rack was easily worth $10 and the total price was $33.32. The lumber would be sufficient for that department for next year and the sale was of short lengths. Philip T. Schantz moved that the purchase be made. The principal stated the need of large and small envelopes and was told to order them.

Mrs. Rose stated that having four days due her during the year and since quarterly tests were on last week Miss June Reynolds, supervisor of music, had been granted two days of the previous week to attend music conference in New York. There was a request for some books in the commercial department taught by Miss Frances Williams, also for dramatic plays used by Mrs. Jacobs and Miss Elizabeth Salese, who sponsored dramatics. There was a need of replacing some history books in the seventh grade. A few bills were presented which are held over until state aid money comes.

While the birthday fell on the last day of March Mrs. Freer's illness did not permit the party on that date and the good time was delayed. Games engaged the attention of the guests through the evening so that they all had a hilarious time. The surprised hostess received many beautiful gifts. The young people came laden with the refreshments which were served at a late hour. Attending were Misses Nancy Dean, Dorothy Fisher, Evelyn Atkins, Barbara Boyce, Mildred Altizio, Norma Donaldson, Marie Gersch, Messrs. Danville, N. Y., April 8 (AP).—"Flying" said Martin A. Allen, who will be 66 tomorrow, "is all right, but shucks—if you want a real thrill, there's nothing like a parachute jump out of a balloon." Divorce Awarded To Gay '90 Bride Wooded as Invalid

Chicago (AP).—The story of a romance of the "gay '90s" that cooled with the turning of the century was repeated before Judge Joseph Sabath in superior court here by Mrs. Charlotte Weightman.

"It was the most beautiful courtship there ever was," she said. "I was an invalid. He used to carry me to and from my wheel chair. We were married in 1892." Mrs. Weightman recalled that in the next five years she made her husband five suits and two overcoats. But in 1902, she testified, he ordered her from their home. "Once I went back," she said, "but he refused to admit me." Evidence revealed Mrs. Weightman had been receiving $1 a day, separate maintenance since 1904. After hearing her story, Judge Sabath gave Mrs. Weightman a divorce from Charles Weightman and restored her maiden name. Weightman signed over a $1,000 insurance policy in lieu of alimony.

Records Reveal Name of Town Long Misspelled

Centerville, Ia. (AP).—The name of this town has been spelled with a "C" for years when, as a matter of fact, it should have been an "S." The error was discovered by County Clerk Howard D. Evans when he searched through the records after receiving a letter addressed to Centerville.

A history of Appanoose county shows, says Evans, that early day residents here decided to name the community Centerville in honor of Governor Senter of Tennessee. Later, the state legislature, not knowing about the connection with Governor Senter, thought it was just a case of bad spelling on the part of the old timers and made it Centerville, which in all probability, it will remain.

UNDAUNTED PIGEONS FOSTER MEN'S EGG.

Enid, Okla. (AP).—One of Ernie Berg's white Wyandotte hens flew into a temporarily deserted pigeon box and laid an egg.

The pigeons adopted the strange egg. A pigeon egg usually hatches in 13 days, but the Berg pigeons took turns on the big egg for the necessary three weeks and hatched a chick.

The foster parents had some difficulty feeding the arrival, but Berg says they "appeared very happy" over the offspring.

Britain Publishes Paper Showing Hitler Fear of Air Attack

London, April 8 (AP).—The British government published a white paper today disclosing Reichsfuehrer Hitler's fear that Berlin "might easily be reduced to a heap of ashes" from a Russian air attack.

The white paper, outlining Anglo-German-French diplomatic discussions for securing European peace from June, 1934, to March 1936, showed that Der Fuehrer expressed that view to Sir Eric Phipps in Berlin December 16, when the British ambassador pressed him to start conversations for an air pact.

Previously the Reichsfuehrer had stated a pact for air force limitations must be held in abeyance, because of the Italo-Ethiopian uncertainties.

Phipps, reporting to Sir Samuel Hoare, then foreign secretary, said Hitler referred to "Russia's" enormous military strength on land and in the air.

Der Fuehrer said: "Berlin might easily in a few hours be reduced to a heap of ashes by a Russian air attack before the league or any other body would even have begun to discuss the question of how to deal with it."

The British ambassador disclosed Hitler's view of the Franco-Soviet "military alliance" as "directed against Germany had rendered the air pact out of the question.

The 32-page paper, held up for two weeks by a German objection to publication of some of the documents, outlined the conversations for European security pacts from June 27, 1934, until Leopold von Hoesch, German ambassador in London, went to the foreign office March 7 and told Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, that Der Fuehrer's troops had entered the demilitarized Rhineland.

Eden recorded on January 27 the fact that Konstantin von Neurath, German foreign minister, who was in London for the funeral of the late King George, told him:

"The German government fully intended to respect the treaty of Locarno."

"Germany's anxieties, however, were not with the west," Von Neurath told Eden.

Serious Threat Seen
Washington, April 8 (AP).—Senator Black (D., Ala.) said today he saw a serious threat to union labor in the Supreme Court's Securities Act decision.

He asserted enforcement of the opinion would nullify the Norris-La Guardia anti-injunction law. This forbids the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes unless all other expedients have been exhausted. Black referred to a section of the Supreme Court opinion, which he interpreted as meaning that an application for an injunction has, in itself, all the force of a restraining order duly issued by the courts.

City Fathers Enliven Session With Debate

nal offer he had seen him and Mr. Doyle now offered $35.

The matter was referred to a committee.

"Blanket Resolutions."

Following the reading of a number of resolutions introduced by the various aldermen calling for street repair work, Alderman Tremper of the Second ward objected to the introduction of blanket resolutions such as those calling for "the repair of all streets in certain wards" or "the sweeping of all the streets in such and such a ward."

Alderman Tremper said that the aldermen should be "sensible in our resolutions." It was an impossibility, he said, for the Board of Public Works to repair all of the streets in all of the wards in the city.

Alderman Epstein of the Sixth ward, said that he had introduced a resolution calling for the repair of all the streets in his ward, but he had only done so after he had made a survey of his ward and found that every street had one or more holes in the pavement. He said he had taken the matter up with Superintendent Conway of the Board of Public Works and was assured that the holes would be patched.

"Let me tell my colleagues from the Second ward," said Alderman Zucca, "that if you don't stick up for your ward it will be just too bad. Just wait and see the resolutions I introduce at the next meeting."

Alderman Cornwell, who had previously introduced a resolution inviting the Board of Public Works to extend an invitation to the aldermen to meet with the board, said that the reason he had introduced it was to afford the aldermen a chance to confer with the members of the board, not to roast them but to learn what street work was planned and what action was taken on resolutions introduced in the council so that the aldermen would be in a position to inform their constituents just what action was taken.

"I just ask the common council to use common sense," said Alderman Tremper. "You must have it on your record that you are representing your wards."

Small Wages Paid.
Alderman Vogel of the Seventh ward said he would like to call the council's attention to the firm from Middletown that was engaged in razing the old U. & D. shops. He said that the men employed on the job were working for small wages and were not protected by compensation.

Alderman Lukaszewski of the Fourth ward said he was able to talk on that question for he had worked for four weeks on that job. He said a state inspector had visited the job and that he had talked with the state inspector and asked him why the firm was not carrying compensation insurance, and the inspector had informed him that he had nothing to do with that matter. He said it was not safe for men to get on the roof of the building and that some one ought to take the matter up with Albany and ascertain why no compensation insurance was carried. He said he had taken the matter up with the corporation counsel who had informed him he would take it up with Albany.

Alderman Tremper said he would strenuously object to the Common Council taking any official action in the matter as it was an invasion of private business. The state law provided that compensation insurance must be carried. Alderman Tremper said he knew nothing of the wages being paid.

Alderman Zucca said he believed that the state labor department should be asked why the firm did not comply with the law. The state labor department were strict in regard to working hours and compensation in the local stores and factories.

Alderman Epstein said that while he was not in accord with the policies of the firm taking down the shops yet he agreed with Alderman Tremper that it was not a matter for the council to consider officially.

One of the aldermen asked if there was any resolution before the council in the matter. He was informed there was not.

The discussion ended when Alderman Lukaszewski said that the corporation counsel had told him he would take the matter up with the state labor department.

Wanted Building Repaired.
Alderman Vogel introduced a resolution that the city repair the old D. & H. office building on the Company Hill in the rear of Temple Emanuel as a WPA project and use the building.

Alderman Vogel's resolution expressing the sympathy of the council to Alderman James E. Connelly on the death of his sister was unanimously adopted.

Other resolutions introduced and referred to the proper city boards and departments were:

Action to Recover $3,000 for Hommel Death at Saugerties

Before County Judge Frederick G. Traver in county court this morning trial of an action brought by Mrs. Hannah Hommel of town of Saugerties against the town of Saugerties was taken up for trial. The action arises out of the death of Oscar Hommel who was fatally burned on February 10, 1935, while attempting to extinguish a fire in his home. Under the law a member of a Volunteer Fire Department who is fatally burned in the performance of his duty as a volunteer fireman is entitled to have paid to his widow or children the sum of $3,000. The payment is to be made by the fire district.

The question involved in the case on trial is whether Mr. Hommel was engaged as a member of the Centerville Fire Department at the time or whether he was acting as a private citizen in protecting his own property.

On February 10, 1935, Mr. Hommel, who it is alleged in the complaint was a member of the fire department of Centerville, had been fighting with Hartford Myer. Hommel owned the house. They had returned to the house and Mr. Hommel started to get something to eat. While he was engaged in the kitchen about an oil stove Mr. Myer went into another room and turning on the radio and dozed off on a couch. He awoke to find the stove ablaze. Mr. Hommel and he endeavored to smother the fire and Mr. Myer went out to get snow to put on the fire. This proved to be unsuccessful and both left the house.

Mr. Hommel told Mr. Myer to go to the Frank Hommel home in his car and call the Centerville fire department, this Myer did.

When the call was sent in Frank Hommel arrived at the Oscar Hommel place and assisted in putting out the fire. At that time Oscar Hommel was in the place attempting to fight the fire but at the time he had been seriously burned and he was removed and taken to the hospital where he died next day.

It is the contention of the petitioner that at the time Mr. Hommel went word for the fire department that he then became an active member of the fire department and that it was after this act that he was burned and therefore comes within the meaning of the law and is entitled to have compensation under the law for any fatal injuries. It is alleged he was acting as a member of the Volunteer Fire Department which had been summoned when he received his injury.

Andrew J. Cook, appearing for the town of Saugerties moved to dismiss the complaint on the grounds it had not been properly made in

It is alleged he was acting as a member of the Volunteer Fire Department which had been summoned when he received his injury.

Andrew J. Cook, appearing for the town of Saugerties moved to dismiss the complaint on the grounds it had not been properly made in act something to eat. While he was engaged in the kitchen about an oil stove Mr. Myer went into another room and turning on the radio and dozed off on a couch. He awoke to find the stove ablaze. Mr. Hommel and he endeavored to smother the fire and Mr. Myer went out to get snow to put on the fire. This proved to be unsuccessful and both left the house.

Mr. Hommel told Mr. Myer to go to the Frank Hommel home in his car and call the Centerville fire department, this Myer did.

When the call was sent in Frank Hommel arrived at the Oscar Hommel place and assisted in putting out the fire. At that time Oscar Hommel was in the place attempting to fight the fire but at the time he had been seriously burned and he was removed and taken to the hospital where he died next day.

It is the contention of the petitioner that at the time Mr. Hommel went word for the fire department that he then became an active member of the fire department and that it was after this act that he was burned and therefore comes within the meaning of the law and is entitled to have compensation under the law for any fatal injuries. It is alleged he was acting as a member of the Volunteer Fire Department which had been summoned when he received his injury.

that no notice as required by law had been given the town within the 90 days time specified after the accident and that later notice given was not in compliance with the town law. This motion was denied by the court.

The case is contested on the grounds that Mr. Hommel was not acting as a member of the volunteer department but that he was acting to save his own property which he would be required to do if he were not a member of the department. It is further contended that at the time of the injury the department had not been called. Mr. Cook contends that the law does not contemplate payment of $3,000 to a volunteer fireman in the work of protecting his own property. The payment of the sum is contemplated, he held, only when a member of the department is in the act of protecting a property of the community in which he has no interest.

The town board has denied the claim.

The matter came before the court without a jury.

Highland Man Is Missing Two Weeks

Authorities throughout the valley are continuing a search for Umano Pesano, 74, who has been missing since the morning of March 27, when he left the home of his daughter in Highland with whom he resided, leaving no word of his plans.

The fact he had been ill most of the winter and had shown despondency over his condition has caused relatives concern.

The Highland State Police barracks, which has sent out a teletype broadcast of his description, said he might have gone to New York to visit friends but the fact that nearly two weeks have passed made this theory improbable. He had $8 in his pockets when he disappeared.

The state police said the countryside here has been scoured by searching parties.

Pesano had been active up until last winter when he became ill. He was described as five feet and 11 inches tall and weighing 180 pounds. He is dark complexioned with gray hair and when he left he wore a black overcoat and a gray hat.

ON THE POLITICAL FRONT

CHESTER C. BOLTON

(By The Associated Press)

Representative Chester C. Bolton of Ohio already is head hunting among the Democrats whose seats in the House he would like to see occupied by Republicans.

He is chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, an unofficial group which will try in the November elections to subtract from the Democrats' 218 seats in the house and add to the Republicans' 194.

Like a good captain, Bolton went over the top with his men in a recent tour of his home state, district by district, preaching his two-point gospel—that Republicans must take the congressional elections seriously.

If they hope to stem the "new front" tide, and that they must pick candidates of unquestioned ability.

Bolton, who came to congress by way of Harvard and the steel industry, has won a reputation for persistence and a magic touch in calming party squabbles.

Tomorrow—Charles Hille.

Ex-President Hoover recently offered the opinion that the life insurance industry should be free from taxation, inasmuch as other types of savings, such as savings deposits, are. There is small chance of that coming to pass—but the public would do well to consider that no industry should be given greater consideration by our lawmakers.

Campaign Against "Jerry-Builders"

New York, April 7.—State Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews today extended his campaign against "Jerry-Builders" of the contracting industry who operate without compensation insurance coverage, announcing a conference of law-abiding contractors, financial and money-lending institutions and officials of the State Labor Department on Friday morning, April 17.

At this conference, the commissioner and the law-abiding contractors hope to reach an agreement with the banking officials whereby it will be a condition precedent to obtaining financial aid, and the contractors securing loans must show coverage by workmen's compensation insurance.

In announcing the conference, Commissioner Andrews said: "In the past years there has come into the building industry what are commonly known as 'Jerry-Builders'."

"These firms are for the most part financially irresponsible. Their bids are low. Not only do they offer unfair competition to the legitimate contractor, but they also often operate without Workmen's Compensation Insurance with the result that their injured workmen, instead of being provided for, are thrown on relief, thereby increasing the general tax burden."

"In an effort to curb the unlawful activities of these firms, I am asking the assistance of the financial and money-lending institutions in the state in the hope that an agreement can be reached whereby one of the requisites for a loan will be evidence that the applicant has protected his employees by securing Workmen's Compensation Insurance, in accordance with the provisions of Section 50 of the Workmen's Compensation Law."

"A conference upon the matter between interested parties will be held on Friday, April 17, 1936, at 10:30 a. m. in Room 500 of the State Office Building, 50 Centre street, New York city."

About the only thing a general war in Europe would do now would be to make the world safe for communism.

Busy Bees Prove Spring Is Here

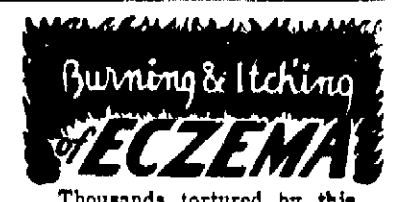

Ithaca, N. Y., April 6.—Of the hundreds of plants that adorn the home grounds and countryside with flowers, only a few can be used by bees in the making of honey, says Professor George H. Rea of the New York state college of agriculture. These are the plants and trees that bear nectar in abundance and which grow in profusion over large areas.

In early spring, sometimes late in March, bees go forth to find nectar and nectar from unusual sources, according to the Cornell bee expert. Even the lowly skunk cabbage contributes its share in early spring. Some of the other early contributors are the American elm, the soft maple, several kinds of willows, various kinds of fruit trees, and wild hawthorn blossoms. These blossoms and others supply pollen in abundance, while the willows, maples, and fruit blossoms furnish nectar. The most valuable of the wild spring flowers is said to be the dandelion.

One of the best commercial honey crops is harvested from clover blossoms, says Professor Rea. Of these, the wild white clover and alsike are decidedly valuable because the flower tubes are short enough for the little honey bee to get the nectar stored at the bottom of the tube. Buckwheat is another important honey crop, and bees revel in buckwheat blossoms early in the day before the sun becomes hot enough to dry off all the dew. The nectar from golden rod, mixed with that from buckwheat, makes exceptionally fine honey.

Preston Challenges "Sarge" to Play in Red Cross Baseball

"Guinea 'Sarge' Simpson is afraid to join his police officer friends when they go down to defeat before my boys of the Headquarters Battery," said Capt. C. S. Preston today in answer to queries about the prospects for the Red Cross benefit game to be played tomorrow evening at the Armory on North Manor avenue. "I hear that more than 300 tickets have already been sold and I don't blame the 'Sarge' for sticking to the side lines and coaching," the captain continued as he enlarged upon the abilities of the soldier boys and scorned any threats the law enforcers might trot out.

"We hear that the 'Sarge' is quite a ball player and want to beat the best team they can put in the field," said Preston, "and just to make the affair a certain victory for the army I will pitch for them at least part of the game, if—"

"If what," he was asked. "If the 'Sarge' will get into a baseball outfit and play with the night stick welders. Say if he does this game will be concerned with the Red Cross in more ways than one. The 'Sarge' will see 'red' and the cross will mark the spot where the Kingston Police Force once tried and failed," concluded the army leader.

So far the "Sarge" has intimated that he will stick exclusively to a coaching job, but Captain Preston's remarks may entice him to accept the challenge.

The police have not announced any line-up.

Newman Club Held Meeting on Tuesday

At Newman Club last night, a Communion breakfast was discussed and President Harold Reis appointed a committee of four, John Cunningham, William Bodenweber, Daniel Cullen, and Richard Pfeiffer to take charge of the affair.

A distinguished guest-speaker, the Rev. George Murdoch, who has been chaplain at West Point for the past seven years, and who formerly served in the navy for 10 years, was present. Father Murdoch gave a most interesting talk, stressing the diabolical conditions of irreligion in many countries today, and pointing out the fact that it is possible that a similar condition may at some time exist in our own country. This he declared, can be avoided by the proper training of Catholic youth.

In closing, Father Murdoch reminded the members of the distressing lack of chaplains and chapels in the various military posts, and urged them to try to remedy this situation when they became rotors and taxpayers.

At the next Newman Club meeting to be held on April 21, the Kingston High School Debating Team will be present. As usual, dancing will follow the business meeting.

Soil Conservation Payments Available To Ulster Farmers

All farmers of Ulster county are eligible to apply for the Federal Crop diversion and approved practice payments to be made available under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, according to Albert Kurdt, manager of the Ulster County Farm Bureau. Arrangements have been made through the state committee to hold a county-wide meeting on Tuesday, April 14, at 1:15 p. m. in the court house at Kingston, at which the provisions of the act will be thoroughly explained by M. C. Bond of the State College of Agriculture. Application blanks are to be available soon after this meeting. All farmers are invited to attend the meeting next Tuesday.

Many details of the act have not been settled but it is expected that official information will be available next week. A county committee is being set-up which will have entire supervision of the work of filling out applications, checking on compliance and keeping the necessary records.

The general provisions of the act make diversion payments available to farmers who divert up to 15 percent of their 1935 soil depleting acreage, at the approximate rate of ten dollars per acre, up to a maximum of 15 percent of the established base. In addition, payments will be made for certain approved soil improvement practices up to an amount equal to one dollar per acre of all soil conserving crops on the farm. The approved improvement practices must be carried out before this payment is made.

Mr. Kurdt suggests that all farmers interested should plan to attend the meeting next Tuesday. An opportunity will be given to ask questions as to the provisions of the act at that time.

Lupo and Ferrino Taken to New York

Josephine Lupo and Antonio Ferrino of 1005 Kelly street, New York, who were arrested by the Kingston police for circulating counterfeit coins and bills in Kingston, were taken to New York city Tuesday afternoon by two Deputy Marshalls who arrived at the court house about 3 o'clock. The two will be detained at a Federal prison in New York pending a hearing later.

After their arrest for circulating counterfeit money in Kingston, the police lodged a complaint and the pair were held under bond after a hearing in city court. Later Federal men arrived in town and took over the matter and lodged a complaint under a Federal statute. The police then withdrew their charge and turned the pair over to the Federal authorities who arraigned them before U. S. Commissioner Connelly. Before the U. S. Commissioner they were held for a hearing on April 20 and bail fixed at $7,500 each. Unable to procure bail they were placed in the custody of Sheriff Molyneux pending arrival of the Federal Marshalls who removed the two to a Federal detention place.

Whether they will be returned April 20 depends on whether a Federal grand jury acts on their case prior to that time. Both are said to be the same persons who are on bail from a New Jersey court on the same charge.

Congress was interrupted the other day by a man who thinks he's a "Prophet of God". That's always happened, although the speakers seldom have the nerve to come right out with it.

EASTER PARADE

Presenting Alternates for the Cosmopolitan Cutaway

While England has its Ascot, and Paris its Boulevards, America has its Easter Parade. Let us be accused of going "high hat," remember, if you can, or ask dad about the days when no gentleman's wardrobe was complete without a cutaway and top for occasions of daytime formality. Regardless of the fact that political cartoonists invariably depict their villainous characters attired in the cutaway, this outfit still remains the only entirely correct one for daytime formality. However—just as, in most localities, men prefer the dinner jacket or tuxedo to tailcoats, so they prefer the short jacket of oxford grey, either in single or double-breasted models, for formal day wear. With this outfit, all the accessories that would be correctly worn with the cutaway are acceptable. The ladies, dressed in keeping with the glory of Easter and Spring, will unquestionably feel flattered if their escorts' choice of apparel follows our suggestions.

3. With the single-breasted jacket, a smart accessory and one that will add to the personality of the ensemble is a double-breasted waistcoat, which may be of white or natural color linen, or of grey or fawn dannel.

5. and 6. The white laundered collar is indicated, and may be worn with a contrasting deeper colored shirt of tan, blue or grey, or even holly. Inasmuch as it's Easter time, however, should be limited to geometric patterns or smart stripes in black and white or grey. If a truly formal touch is desired, you may wear an ascot and wing collar. The ascot, however, need not be the classic black and white affair, but may, as we have shown, be of polka dots in black and white, or navy blue and white.

2. A shoe of black calf, with no perforations, is preferable for wear with this outfit. However, though perforated, should be black and white or grey.

The WORLD of STAMPS

By QUINTON JAMES

Three hundred years ago Diego de Almagro headed an expedition that led the first white men into Chile. Today, the South American republic is celebrating the event with a tri-centenary issue of 13 postage stamps.

The group is pictorial, mainly illustrating the industries of the country, although one value, a 3-peso brown, bears a head and shoulders reproduction of de Almagro, with the inscription, "Discoverer of Chile."

The expedition of Spanish explorers which de Almagro headed had set out from Peru with the hope that they would find gold. They failed to do so, history relates, largely due to the resistance they encountered from the Indians. However, their first trek into the then little known territory beat a path that other pioneers followed in later years.

The commemorative stamps include a scenic view or two and, besides the 3-peso, comprise these values: 5-centavo red orange, desert of Atacama; 10-c purple, fishing boats; 20-c magenta, Chilean cocoa palms; 25-c greenish blue, grazing sheep; 30-c yellow green, mining; 40-c black, Longquimay woods; 50-c blue, colliery at the port of Lota; 1-peso dark green, commerce of Valparaiso; 1.20-p dark blue, Puntagundo volcano; 5-p brick red, cattle; 10-p deep violet, saltpeter mining, with a view of a steam shovel. The 40-c is on cream colored paper, while the 50-c has paper tinted slightly blue.

Celebratory Stamps.

Having started the year with the Texas centennial special 3-cent, the U. S. postoffice department is planning other issues celebrating events of a similar nature.

Those already announced include the tercentenary issue for Rhode Island, smallest state in the union, and another to commemorate the one-hundredth anniversary of the settlement of the old Oregon territory, which now comprises the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and parts of Montana and Wyoming.

Last year there were two state commemorative issues, that for the Connecticut tercentenary and the Michigan centennial. In 1934 both Maryland and Wisconsin boasted tercentenary stamps in this category.

The first stamp in this category of the states was the Vermont sesquicentennial 2-c of 1927 picturing a Green Mountain boy. Following in 1930 was the 3-c commemorating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Massachusetts bay colony. In that year also appeared the 2-cent marking the 260th anniversary of the founding of the Province of Carolina and the 250th of the city of Charleston, S. C. The Georgia bicentennial of 1933, picturing General Oglethorpe, was the first of the "state" stamps to use the 3-cent face value.

When the proposed Oregon and Rhode Island issues appear, eleven divisions of the country will have been honored, or fifteen states altogether considering the large area embraced by the original Oregon territory.

Governments To Exhibit.

Post office departments of at least 15 governments, including the United States, are expected to have exhibits at the third international Philatelic exhibition in New York next May. Among them also will be Great Britain, Canada, Austria, Belgium, Norway and Switzerland.

The previous international exposition in New York was in 1926. Plans for this year's show call for a greater amount of space for exhibits, based on the increasing interest in stamp collecting shown in the last ten years.

11 Children Unhurt
When Bus Is Ditched

Eleven children of Plattskill and vicinity had a remarkable escape from serious injury if not death Monday morning about 9:45 when a bus of the Corwin Line of Newburgh, in which they were enroute to New Paltz High School, left the highway while descending Moran's Hill about three miles north of Plattskill. Postoffice, turned over twice and landed on its top in a ditch.

German Dale, of Newburgh, who operated the bus, escaped injury. He and Patrick Moran and passing motorists at once concentrated their attention on rescuing the pupils.

While all the children were shaken up and suffered considerably from scratches and shock, none was seriously injured. Patricia Flemming, Margaret Garcia and Dorothy Fowler of Plattskill were taken to New Paltz by Mr. Moran, after which they were taken to their homes. Their injuries are not considered serious. Other pupils were cared for in the Moran home before being taken to their homes.

Besides children mentioned others in the bus were: Marcella Campbell, Evelyn Birdsell, Ralph Garcia, John Odell, Joseph Voss, Charles Staszewski, Kenneth Birdsell and Russell Carpenter. The accident was caused by locking brakes, according to driver Dale.

Today, after the numerous educational campaigns carried out by the authorities, and the various safety associations, the public knows that the role of traffic officers is not to bring about embarrassment to transgressors, but rather to ensure the safety of traffic to educate the motorists, and to assist and help motorists who may need it.

$25,000 FIRE DESTROYED
HOTEL AT ROUND TOP

Round Top, Tex., April 7.—The origin of which probably never will be ascertained, destroyed the large Maple Lawn House at Round Top, Tex., about 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

for the season. The fire was discovered by Mr. Ray Lock, who resides on the opposite side of the road. Junior Chamber of Commerce Meeting

Approximately 35 young men met in the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday evening to discuss and formulate a constitution and by-laws for the newly organized Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce. The proposed constitution and by-laws, worked on for the past three weeks by N. Jansen Fowler and his committee, were submitted to the membership shortly after the meeting got under way. There was considerable difference of opinion on points and problems in the proposed new constitution and the meeting developed into a combination of debate and oratory with neither the affirmative nor the negative group willing to concede victory to the opposite factors. President H. G. LaMothe, after listening to the long and arduous discussions arising from the floor, finally sent the constitution and by-laws back into committee for revision in the hope the difficulties could be ironed out with a smaller unit wrestling with the objectionable points as raised in last evening's meeting.

Prior to the debate on the proposed constitution, the membership committee, headed by Al Planagan, gave a short report which showed that the Junior Chamber is rapidly expanding in membership and that the chances are good that the organization will have an impressive membership total within a very short time.

President LaMothe also stated that the Junior Chamber was 100% behind the Kingston Industrial Committee in their work of raising necessary funds through the medium of a minstrel show and Mr. La Mothe asked the membership present to sell tickets and get behind the event in every way possible in order to help insure the show's success.

COUNTY Christian Endeavor NEWS

State Convention.

Each Christian Endeavorer is asked to make a special effort to attend the New York State Convention in Poughkeepsie, July 2-5. There are many reasons for attending, a few of which are: stirring messages from noted speakers; discussions on youth and world problems; demonstrations of society work; good times at fellowship banquets; ministry of music and convention singing; conferences on society planning; morning meditations and worship experiences; great Christian youth parade; interesting exhibits of practical value; friendship opportunities with other youth; special conferences for ministers and leaders; junior convention and intermediate conference; after-convention tour to New York City. Registration blanks are now in the hands of each society president.

Vesper Service.

The Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union Vesper Service will be held on Easter Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Church of the Comforter, Kingston. The Rev. Cornelius Mayskens, of Gardiner, who is pastoral counselor of the county union, will deliver the sermon. C. Lee Powell will have charge of the entire service, and everyone is invited to attend.

Poster Contest.

Nelson Lewis requests that those Endeavorers who are planning to enter the County Union Poster Contest, and perhaps the state competition at Poughkeepsie convention, begin work immediately. Any questions about this contest not answered in this column two weeks ago, will be solved by writing to Mr. Lewis at 47 New Street, Kingston.

Lecture at Zena.

The regular meeting of the Zena Christian Endeavorers last Friday evening was outstanding because of a lecture given by the Rev. John Heidenreich on the subject of Father Divine. Mr. Heidenreich just completed a short study of this movement, which is spreading so rapidly that Father Divine now claims a world-wide following of approximately 22,000,000 people. Copies of the magazine, "The Spoken Word," were distributed to the society members, who were also greatly interested in the type of singing that is followed by the Divineites. The Rev. Mr. Heidenreich made a personal visit to the colonies at New Paltz, High Falls and Kingston, and impressed on the Zena Endeavorers that this movement really amounts to something and is worthwhile studying.

Comforter Announcements.

The Church of the Comforter Endeavor business meeting and social which is regularly held on the second Friday of each month has been postponed until April 17. Miss Alberta Scheffel and her committee have completed their planning for the Dawn Service on Easter morning in the church at 7 o'clock. They have secured the Rev. Harvey Hoffman of the Plattekill Reformed Church at Mt. Marion to deliver the address, and have arranged a service that they hope will surpass the success of last year. The general public is most cordially invited to this early morning service.

Slide Lecture.

The Endeavorers of the First Dutch Church of Kingston enjoyed a very interesting slide lecture last Sunday evening. A total of 43 lantern slides on the Life of Christ were shown to the assembled group.

Bethany Elections.

The annual meeting of the Bethany Chapel young people's organization known as the GGG's, was held last Thursday evening, at which time all the retiring officers gave their yearly reports, indicating that the past year was one of the busiest that has ever been enjoyed, with three pageants and a play capping the climax. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Earl Stoutenburg; vice president, Evelyn Howard; chaplain, Almeda Gerlach; secretary, Ellen Foster; treasurer, Olive Buntin; editor of paper, Pearl Howard; associate advisor, Edna Davis. A public installation of these officers will be held on Sunday evening, April 19, taking the form of a pageant, "Coming of Light". The annual birthday party of the organization will be celebrated on April 16.

Two Services for Baptists.

Sunday night at the regular service in the Albany Avenue Baptist Church the Christian Endeavor chorus of 20 voices will sing the beautiful cantata, "The Resurrection and the Life", the solo part being sung by Mrs. Fuller, the conductor of the chorus, and Mrs. Brant and Miss Helen Bates. The rendition will take most of the time allotted to the evening church service and will be open to the general public. Sunday evening, April 19, will be observed as college night. The program for this service will be in charge of two former C. E. members who are now in college, Harry T. Gumaer and Adrian Cuddeby.

Sunrise Service.

The Young People's societies of the churches in the Wallkill Valley will hold their Easter Sunrise Service on the Minnewaska Trail on Sunday morning at 7 o'clock. The Rev. Alfred H. Coons of the New Paltz Methodist Church will be the speaker. A cordial invitation is extended to all those who wish to attend.

Obtaining Salt.

There are several principal means of obtaining salt. The simplest of these is by the evaporation of sea water. A more important method is to sink wells to the salt deposits, force water into them to dissolve the salt, and then pump it out again. On reaching the surface the mixture is discharged into settling tanks where clay and other matter is allowed to settle, after which the brine is pumped into evaporating pans from which the water is boiled off.

CANTATA ON GOOD FRIDAY AT REDEEMER LUTHERAN

On Good Friday at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers street, Maunders' passion cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," will be sung by an augmented choir under the direction of Leonard Stine with Frederick Richens at the organ. The time is 8 p. m. "Olivet to Calvary" recalls simply and reverently the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth, and some of the reflections suggested thereby. The rejoicing of the multitude with hosannas and palms, the view of Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the beautiful city, the scene in the Temple and the lonely walk back over the mount at night, form the chief features of the first part.

Part two opens with the supper of the Passover at which Jesus washed His disciples' feet and gives to His friends the new commandment of love for one another, as the sign of true discipleship. From this the scene passes to the infinite pathos of the Garden of Gethsemane, the sudden appearance of the hostile crowd, Jesus forsaken by His disciples, His utter loneliness among ruthless foes, the tumult before Pilate in the judgment hall, the passage of the cross, the tragedy and triumph of Calvary. The following is a cast of soloists and chorus:

Soloists: Jessie Wolfenstein, Leonard Stine, William Rabble and Donald Clark.
Chorus—Soprano, Ruth Duryee, Eva Clinton, Ruth Morris, Dorothea Groves, Laura Schoonmaker, Ellen Hutton, Olive Saehlf, Grace Van Natten; alto, Caroline Port, Carol Downer, Gertrude Messinger, Shirley Dunham, Elizabeth Rowland, Virginia Luedike, Eleanor Franz, Helen Flicker; tenor, Joseph Kearney, John McCullough, Harold Canfield, Kenneth Deyo, Arthur Rifenbary, Frank Lawatsch, Robert Messinger, Paul Mohr; bass, Donald Clark, Harold Darling, Leo Bolce, Roger Eastman, Harry Legg, William Bushnell, William Mills, Elwood DuBols.

Eden Protests

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press) Geneva, April 8.—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden protested strongly today against alleged use of poison gas by the Italian armies

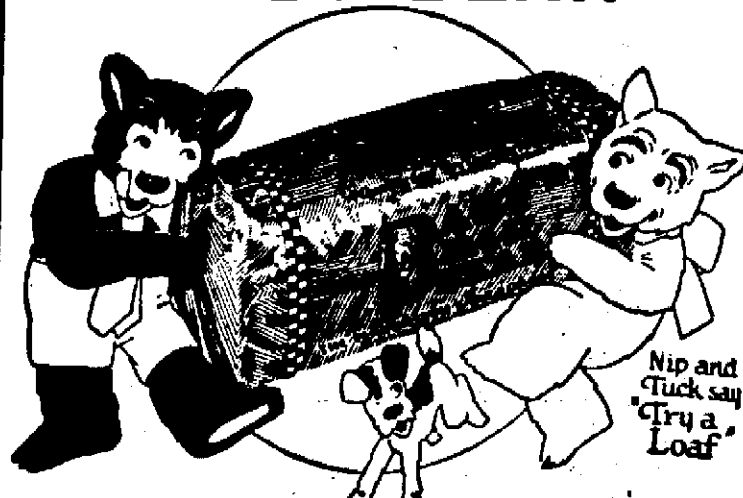

In Ethiopia, during a secret session of the League of Nations conciliation committee of 13.

Eden declared the international convention against use of asphyxiating gases was signed both by Italy and by Ethiopia in 1925 at Geneva, and that "this convention makes the use of gas absolutely prohibited."

Eden then asked if the international Red Cross possessed any information concerning the use of poison gas by either Italy or Ethiopia.

The conciliation committee voted to get in touch with the Red Cross, to determine what evidence, if any, that organization possessed.

Freddie's Parents To Fight for Custody

New York, April 8 (AP).—Twelve-year-old Freddie Bartholomew, the movie actor, was cast in an episode in his own life drama today—a renewal of his parents' fight to regain the custody of their son.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Llewellyn Bartholomew, were due to arrive from England on the Europa, their attorney said, prepared to contest the guardianship of Freddie which was granted last October 22 by a Los Angeles court to his aunt, Miss Millicent Bartholomew.

Freddie, a star of "David Copperfield" and several other movies, has lived with his aunt almost continuously since he was three.

Philip A. Levey, New York lawyer, said Freddie's parents planned to seek an "amicable settlement" with Miss Bartholomew, but if this failed they would go to the courts to try to void her guardianship.

In the court action last fall they presented an affidavit asserting the boy was removed to the United States by "trickery and deceit." He is said to have an income of $1,250 a week.

Military Guard In Mexico Today

Mexico City, April 8 (AP).—Military vigilance on all Mexican railroads and other communications lines was redoubled today at the order of President Lazaro Cardenas, to prevent any repetition of the dynamiting Monday night of the Vera Cruz-Mexico City train in which 13 persons died and 18 were injured.

Five separate agencies of the federal and Vera Cruz state governments opened investigations at the scene of the bombing near Paso Del Macho, Vera Cruz, in an effort to determine those responsible for the tragedy.

Officials were reluctant to express opinions concerning the motive for the attack, but unofficial sources agreed in a belief that it was of political origin, probably aimed at the life of Col. Eduardo Hernandez Chazaro, one of the passengers on the wrecked train.

Colonel Hernandez Chazaro was one of five candidates for the government party nomination for the Vera Cruz government in last Sunday's primaries. He escaped injury.

Dr. Redfern Still Hopes
Columbia, S. C., April 8 (AP).—Failure of another expedition to bring a favorable report out of the Dutch Guiana jungles failed today to kill the hopes of Dr. Frederick C. Redfern that his aviator-son, Paul, still lives.

Dr. Redfern reported last night he had learned James A. Ryan, one of a trio of searchers, had been killed in the rapids of a stream and his companions, Arthur J. Farrell and C. W. Vandenberg, had returned to civilization. Young Redfern disappeared while on a flight from Brunswick, Ga., to Brazil, in 1927.

Federal "Movie" Commission
Washington, April 7 (AP).—The creation of a "federal motion picture commission" to regulate the film industry was urged today in an NRA-Commerce Department report. "Only a federal commission would seem versatile enough" to cope with the industry's complex problems, the report said. The study is one of a number being completed by Commerce researchers in surveying the accomplishments and failures of NRA.

that the movie business is subject to monopolistic domination.

A special musical program will include numbers by the male chorus, a solo by Harold S. Brigham, and a violin solo by Mrs. Florence W. Cumberley. At the evening service at 7:30, besides other musical numbers, the Young People's Chorus will render an Easter cantata, "The Resurrection and the Life," by Ira Bishop Wilson.

Sermon on Mount Adapted
Berlin, April 8 (AP).—Christ's sermon on the mount has been adapted to a modern German view by Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller. The main feature of the new version is elimination of all references to Jerusalem, King Solomon, Pharisees and Scribes, laws and prophecies, and the Ten Commandments as made in the Gospel according to Matthew. These references were held to be Jewish and therefore to be rejected. The "modernized" sermon on the mount was issued in the form of a book entitled, "The German Words of God," rendered into German by Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller.

"Once you drive a Hudson
... no other Eight will do!"

"And here is a car that will STAY in style!"

EVERYWHERE our local Hudson owners are telling friends how their Hudson's outperform anything on the road... in traffic, on hills, effortless all-day travel.

The reason? Because this Hudson has more power than any other Eight within hundreds of dollars of its price... and the smoothest automobile motor built. No vibration at any speed... longer life for the car... less "wear" on the driver!

They are telling, too, how much more comfort there is, front seat or back, because this new Hudson Eight has more length, more rear seat room, leg room, head room, than any other popular Eight.

They are praising Hudson's easier, safer way of driving, too... with the Electric Hand. Gear shifting at a finger flick, without taking their hands from the wheel. And at last, real comfort for three to ride in front... with a floor all clear of gear and brake levers.

Let us show you what other owners have found out about Hudson economy and long life. Then take your "Discovery Drive" in a Hudson Eight with the Electric Hand.

(Design 119—Copyright by Southern Pine Association.)

The small "before" sketch at the bottom depicts a typical poorly designed large room that will be found in many a home built some years ago. Note the cumbersome appearing columns and their bases used to divide the large space, and the lone window in the end giving meager light and air, and the tall, heavy looking old mission style mantel around the fireplace.

In remodeling this entire space into a combined library, or study and music room as shown in the large picture at the top, three full length French windows have been installed to give adequate sunlight and ventilation and adding a stately attractiveness and dignity to the room. The unsightly mantel has been replaced with book-shelves on either side of the fireplace, and directly above the fireplace a map is painted on a southern pine panel in natural finish.

A frosted glass light panel in the ceiling above the book-shelves is substituted for the old fashioned chandelier that formerly hung in the middle of the room and gathered dust.

The floor of the space in the foreground has been raised about six inches—just a step—above the floor of the library, making an interesting break in the floor-line so that the large room does not present the appearance of an assembly hall, and also giving an attractive setting for the grand piano.

Sunrooms Increase Spring Home Comfort

As winter snows thaw and Spring nears, many home owners are probably considering the possibility of building a sunroom as a part of their home.

Hundreds of homes throughout the country have been so constructed as to conveniently allow such additions at little cost.

In such projects, it is desirable to have windows on three sides of the sunroom. French doors instead of the usual windows will make the room seem a part of the garden, will allow easy access to outside terraces, and allow a maximum of light and air to enter into the room. In many instances it will not only be decorative but a great asset on cool evenings to install a fireplace in the sunroom, around which colorful furnishings may be grouped.

Flooring for sunrooms may be of any conventional type; hardwood or wide flooring in the early American manner is frequently used. Concrete floors, tile, or composition materials are sometimes desired. Linoleum in a number of brilliant colors and designs is popular in many homes.

Curtains for sunroom should provide adequate privacy without keeping out light, air, or view. Venetian blinds frequently are found effective in decorating sunrooms. Trailings vines, potted plants, flower boxes all add to the general decorative effect. In contemplating the addition of a sunroom, it is advisable to consult an architect or competent building contractor.

"Hold on to yo' hopefulness an' patience," said old Uncle Lorenzo, from near Yancerville, "but don't sit down an' let 'em interfere with yo' reg'lar work. 'Cause of yo' does, a whole lot o' folks is gwinter mistake 'em fo' common laziness."

Be Careful of What You Say!
In speaking of a person's faults, pray don't forget your own. Remember, those with homes of glass should never throw a stone.

If we had nothing else to do than talk of those who sin, 'Tis better we commence at home, and from that point begin. We have no right to judge a man until he's fairly tried; Should we not like his company, we know the world is wide. 'Some have faults—And who has not? The old as well as the young; Perhaps we may, for aught we know, have fifty to their one. Then let us all, when we begin to slander friend or foe, Think of the harm one word may do to those we little know. Remember, curses sometimes like our chicken's roost at home. Don't speak of others' faults until you have none of your own.

Mrs. Gnagge—Have you shut up everything in the house for the night, Elmer?
Elmer—I've shut up everything that can be shut up, my dear.

Taxes are said to be a very touchy thing in Congress. Also the taxpayers feel quite touchy after being touched so often.

Friend—Did you have much trouble learning to play the saxophone?
Young Man—Only with the neighbors.

Just remember this: Three or four words may start the argument of a lifetime.

The puppy had been punished and was sulking in a corner. To him came the small daughter of the house to administer, not comfort, but advice.

"You may just as well be good first as last, Spot," she said. "Everybody that belongs to mother has got to mind. I've been through it all and I know."

The average girl is not content unless she can dress up like a million dollars on her wedding day—and then lead something to the altar that looks like thirty cents.

Minister—The way of the transgressor is hard.
Man—Yes, but the trouble is that it is generally hard on somebody else.

Remember that nearly every one would much rather do business with an optimist than with a pessimist.

History Teacher—Mr. Sophomores, who was it that followed King Edward VI of England?
Mr. Sophomores—Queen Mary.
History Teacher—And who followed Mary?
Mr. Sophomores—Her little lamb.

When you go into some homes the atmosphere is so depressing it makes you want to ask if somebody is dead.

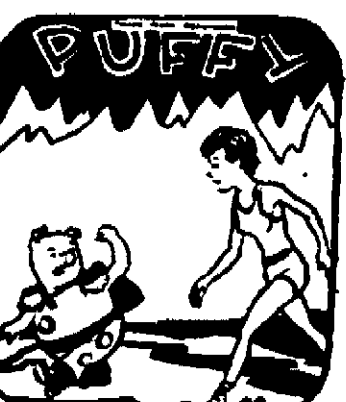

The earliest case of bribery on record is said to be that of Samuel's sons in the Bible. "And his sons walked not in his ways, but turned aside after lucre, and took bribes."

Because some women have their own way so much in this world, they are able to write up their diaries a week in advance.

Youth—Do you think your father would object to my marrying you?
Sweet Young Thing—I don't know. If he is anything like me, he would.

Young Man—You don't seem to take our engagement very seriously.
Sweetie—Of course not. If I had I would not have engaged myself to you.

Ulster County Young Republican Clubs Consolidated

Frederick H. Stang, clerk of the Board of Supervisors, was elected president of Ulster County Young Republican Clubs at a consolidation meeting held at Kingston on Monday evening. Louis Bruhn was elected secretary.

The meeting, which was held for the purpose of consolidating the various Young Republican Clubs of the county and transaction of such other business as might come before it, was attended by representatives of the various clubs now existing. After electing officers, the new organization decided to endorse Frederick H. Stang to succeed himself as vice-president of the Third Judicial District Association of New York State Young Republican Clubs. Ben Slutsky, present county governor for Ulster county, also was endorsed, together with his co-governor, Mrs. Haviland.

The question of representation on the board of governors of the new organization brought forth several plans and much lively discussion which resulted in the adoption of the so-called 13 to 30 plan. This provides for 13 governors from the city, one from each ward, and 30 governors from the county, one from each town.

A constitution and by-laws committee was decided on and appointed by the president. A committee, to report on the advisability of an out-going to be held early in the summer, also was selected by the president. This committee will report back at the next meeting of the club.

"Y" Campaign Meetings Tuesday

Two very enthusiastic meetings of committees connected with the annual Finance Campaign of the Y. M. C. A. were held at the Association building on Tuesday.

The first was a meeting at 5:30 o'clock called by team enrollment chairman John Schwank and his co-chairman Ward Tongue. It was decided to set up the campaign as a baseball league with each division a team. Herb Myers will manage the Giants, LaMont Winter the Pirates, James Scott the Cardinals and Emil Boessneck the Cubs. Charles A. Henke will act as coach for the Cubs and the Giants and Neland H. Fuller will coach the Cardinals and the Pirates. The managers are now busy lining up their teams.

The second meeting was at 7:30 o'clock when the Initial Gift Committee under the leadership of C. S. Treadwell and A. B. Shufeldt met to receive instructions for their work. Eighteen members of the committee were present. Workers kits were distributed and the first work of the Campaign is under way. Members of the Committee will report at a meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Women in Politics Gain Posts in West

Kansas City, April 8 (AP)—Women in politics took charge of two new municipal strongholds in the west today, but men folk of the "hell-for-leather" town of Rifle, Colo., squelched the petticoat challenge firmly and promptly.

Feminine candidates completely swept the ticket yesterday at Green Top, Mo., a community of 268, and women were elected to all but one office at Des Moines, N. M.

From Rifle, a little cowtown, came a different story. Incomplete returns showed men candidates well ahead of a slate of women, their "Rifle beautiful" platform notwithstanding.

In Green Top, political party lines were forgotten in a pitched battle of ballots between the "opposing" sexes. The new mayor, Mrs. Edith Pearce, said it would be unanimous today when she meets with the council to select a city marshal—a woman.

Green Top took its place with another Missouri town, Urbandale, which has been ruled by women without interruption for all the 12 years of its existence.

Urbandale also had an election yesterday—and went regular. Five women were elected trustees, and from them will be chosen a clerk, a treasurer and a marshal.

Governing Urbandale is not much of a job for the women. Only a mile from Moberly, it has just 46 residents and men are in the minority. The council meets in various homes and when the city's business is finished, bridge tables often are unfolded.

At Des Moines, N. Mex., Mrs. W. P. Crater polled 77 votes against 42 for Tom Craswell in the majority race. Sam Mitchell, the only male victor, won a council place by a narrow margin.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

It's the combination of fabrics that go to make this season's ensembles so intriguing—bengaline coats topping sheer frocks—twin prints with the jacket and skirt of printed silk—the bodice of the dress using the same print in sheer, short reversible wool jackets lined with the print of the dress.

While prints for evening are large in design and scattered—the patterns for day time wear are smaller and tend to an all over effect. If it isn't a flower, a leaf or a star it will be just a design—but to be sure it will be an unusual one, for prints are that way this spring.

The ensemble above uses chiffon for its one piece frock in May wine color with a white way design. Soft tucks form the bodice, the sleeves are short caplets and the collar is trimmed with white fagoting.

May wine bengaline is used for the smart sweater coat in the modern new length with its high puffed shoulders and long fitted sleeves and to carry out the color scheme of the dress, a bunch of white flowers are posed on the rever.

Mae Scheible Jury Returns Conviction

New York, April 8 (AP)—Mae Scheible, operator of disorderly houses in Pittsburgh and New York, faced a possible sentence of 52 years imprisonment and a $50,000 fine today for violation of the Mann Act.

Caught in the vice drive of Special Prosecutor Thomas R. Dewey, the burly, stylish dressed woman was convicted by a federal court jury last night on eleven of the 15 counts in the indictment charging transportation of women for immoral purposes from Pittsburgh to New York and conspiracy.

Convicted with her after a six-day trial was Joseph Ryan, her former chauffeur. He is liable to a sentence of 42 years and a fine of $20,000 as a result of his conviction on six of eight counts charging transportation and conspiracy.

"Any other verdict would have been a miscarriage of justice," Judge John C. Knox commented. "This means that we will not stand for anything in human nature."

The defendants were released on bail for sentencing Monday.

Home Institute WHAT YOUR DREAMS MEAN

SAME DREAM SYMBOLS THROUGHOUT THE AGES

The Sun and Moon—a dream symbol of Father and Mother as old as the human race! People dream it today, as in ages past.

Centuries and centuries ago Joseph, the son of Jacob, had such a dream: "Behold, the sun and the moon and eleven stars made obeisance to me." He told the dream to his father and his eleven brothers and made them all furious.

"Shall I and thy mother and thy brethren indeed come to bow ourselves to thee to the earth?" snapped old Jacob harshly, forgetting how his own youthful dream of the ladder came true.

Yet, Joseph did rise so high that his family bowed down to him. Probably, even as a young lad, he felt his superior intelligence and power, though he may not have talked of it.

Certainly our dreams come bubbling up out of our unconscious mind, where lie the secret things we do not openly say or think. But modern psychology reads our dreams as keenly as did Joseph and Jacob of old.

Our unconscious decks out our thoughts in poetic symbols. What these symbols mean depends on personal experience. You dream of bees. Do they typify industry to you? Then you may be dreaming of work, success, saving money. Do you think of bees as stingers? Then your dream may mean fear of criticism.

A dream of water usually means guilt. Washing the hands to remove guilt is an old symbol. Pontius Pilate did it. Lady Macbeth did it. Whose guilt you are dreaming of, you alone can say.

Don't guess blindly about your dreams. Get facts from a modern psychoanalyst on this fascinating subject. Our 40-page Home Institute booklet, "Interpreting Your Dreams," gives the meaning of many dream symbols, shows how dreams may warn or console. Tells of typical dreams, famous dreams, historical dreams. Entertaining, enlightening, authentic.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Early Business

Glens Falls, N. Y.—The matter of an ear brought mystery and misery to Glens Falls today. The mystery was the ear's whereabouts, the misery was its erstwhile owner's.

Lower Shippey, 26, told police he lost the ear while sleeping in the Fort Edward village jail, but couldn't explain how it happened.

Mebbe They Walked the Chalkline. Greenville, S. C.—J. B. Taylor's warning to thieves was good, while it lasted.

After a hen was stolen he chalked a skull and crossbones on his hen house, with the warning, "Beware of the gun."

Rain washed away the sign and the next morning five prize hens were missing.

Grounds for Divorce

Chicago—Judge Rudolph Desart gave Mrs. Myrtle Larsen a divorce from Arthur Larsen after she related: "He sat me down on a hot radiator. He not only sat me down on it but he held me there."

Marilyn Miller Funeral

New York, April 8 (AP)—The funeral of Marilyn Miller, stage and screen star who died yesterday, will be held at 2 30 p. m. tomorrow at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church. The Rev. Dr. George Paul T. Sargent, pastor, will officiate. Private burial will be at Woodlawn Cemetery.

The Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church will hold a regular business meeting Thursday at 2 30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Grant Barber, 124 Cedar street. Hostesses will be Mrs. W. Matthews and Mrs. E. Chipp.

Trapper Was Trapped

Madison, Wis.—Wisconsin trappers are required by law to report all catches to the conservation department. One report said "Two mink. The mink seized on Nov. 2 and called illegal and I have served my 30 days. Thank you."

Near Tragedy

Council Bluffs, Iowa—The mayor's secretary stacked up a pile of circulars consigned to the waste basket. One envelope seemed a little thinner than the others. She took an other look and gasped.

It contained a PWA check for $113.00 representing a 25 per cent payment on a flood control project here.

An Opportunity for 5 INDIVIDUALS with $1,000 or more

A very unusual opportunity for five individuals in this community to participate with a group of responsible men in acquiring a completely equipped brewery which can be in operation within a few weeks. While somewhat speculative, large profits are expected. Capacity can be doubled without creating additional buildings. Capable, experienced management. All participating to share in proportion to investment. This is a most unusual opportunity and warrants investigation. For full details without obligation write at once.

Plane Crash Probed Today by Inspectors; Stewardess Praised

(Copyright, 1936, By Associated Press) Uniontown, Pa., April 8 (AP)—The words of a tiny heroine and the twisted dial of a shattered instrument board told the tale today of the airliner Sun Racer's end—11 dead and three hurt.

At dawn a group of investigators trudged up the highest mountain in western Pennsylvania to check over the wreckage of the big TWA transport which plowed through a fog into a rock-strewn woods yesterday.

Then they turned to listen to the experiences of the three survivors. The group included four department of commerce inspectors.

Eleven burned and broken bodies were taken to a morgue for relative to claim them. The ship caught fire after the wreck.

Petite Nellie Granger, hostess on the California-bound Sun Racer, was the heroine of the disaster. Although injured, she stumbled miles through the underbrush to a forest warden's home.

There she telephoned the news and insisted in going back to remain with the two injured until help came. Hours later she told the story of how the unsuspecting passengers hurried to their deaths.

The dead included: G. B. D'Arcy, Park Central Hotel, New York City.

G. W. Heffernan, 2254 Grand Concourse, New York City.

Pilot Otto Ferguson, Kansas City. Co-pilot H. C. Lewis, Kansas City. Besides Miss Granger, who was cut on a leg and body, the injured were Mrs. Meyer C. Ellenstein, wife of the mayor of Newark, N. J., critically injured, and C. C. Challinor, Cleveland and New York, both ankles broken.

Tragedy at 10:20 A. M. Stopped watches on two of the dead convinced Lieut. George Pickering of the highway patrol and coroner S. A. Baltz that the tragedy occurred at 10:20 a. m. ten minutes earlier Pilot Ferguson, enroute from Newark, N. J., radioed he was flying through thick weather by his instruments and would not land at Pittsburgh.

Jack Frye, president of the Transcontinental Airways, said in New York, the Sun Racer was flying on a special radio beam but was 50 miles off its course.

Frye said that about the time of the crash another TWA plane, east-bound, was delayed in landing because of interruptions of a radio course beam for interpersions of weather reports. He said without further information he could not say whether a beam interruption would have contributed to the wreck.

The Commerce Department in Washington, said, however, a check on beacons by an air commerce bureau pilot showed them to be "accurate and functioning." The report added two commercial pilots also reported the beams all right.

Terrific Force Lieut. Pickering and other investigators who reached the desolate mountainside seven miles from Uniontown soon after Miss Granger's report said the big transport crashed with terrific force.

One wing apparently was ripped off by the limb of a tree while the ship skinned the hilltop. It hurtled on to tear through a hundred yards of underbrush and scattered pieces of wreckage for hundreds of feet.

The hostess and two survivors were in the rear of the Sun Racer and to that fact they owed their lives. That part of the ship did not catch fire.

Challinor from the hospital told of fire breaking out. He said he frantically pushed open a door, breaking his hand. Both ankles were broken in the crash and he could not walk.

Challinor said he crawled through mud and brambles 75 feet from the plane.

Miss Granger said she found him on the ground after she made her way out of the door, and placed a blanket around him.

She told Frye in a telephone conversation that the impact made her unconscious, and added:

"When I came to I could see the sky above me. There was a gaping hole in the top of the fuselage and the wreckage was strewn in every direction."

"I got up and walked—only a few paces, I think. Then I heard a man call. He was outside the plane. I grabbed a blanket automatically

James Woody Is Held For Grand Jury Action

James Woody, 18, of Wall street who was arrested recently in Syracuse and held for the Kingston police department, was arraigned before Judge Culliton in police court this morning on a charge of stealing the Chevrolet car owned by Frank Emberson of St. Remy, and following a preliminary hearing he was held to await the action of the grand jury. In default of furnishing bail he was remanded to the county jail where he has been a prisoner since being brought back from Syracuse.

Wilfred Morin of Albany avenue extension, who is also being held for the grand jury on a charge of stealing the car of W. Kenneth Kukuk from Tremper avenue, which was later recovered at Saugerties where Morin was arrested, was called by the police as a witness in the hearing against Woody.

Morin had made a sworn statement that he and Woody had entered the parking grounds of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation on February 29, and gotten into the Emberson car which Woody drove away. The two youths got as far as Ravena where they abandoned the car. This morning Morin on the witness stand repudiated practically all of what he had previously sworn to and testified that on February 29, he and Woody were in Buffalo.

Later, after Morin had left the witness stand, he was brought back to the court room and informed Judge Culliton that the statements set forth in his sworn statement were true, and that in repudiating them previously he had been attempting to shield both himself and Woody.

Schirick Denies Ego Application for Stay In Dismissal Case

Justice Harry E. Schirick has denied the application of John P. Ego, assessor of the city of Hudson, for a stay pending an appeal to the Appellate Division from an order of Mayor Fred Wheeler dismissing the assessor. The matter was argued before Justice Schirick at special term last Friday. The application made was for an order of certiorari to review petitioner's removal from office as assessor of the city of Hudson and also for a stay of all proceedings by the respondent, Mayor of Hudson, pending the determination of the certiorari proceeding by the Appellate Division. No contest was made to the motion for an order of certiorari but opposition was made to a stay in the proceedings.

The matter arose out of the election of a taxpayer party mayor in Hudson. It is alleged that during the campaign Mr. Wheeler promised the people to make a searching investigation into the city's business if elected and in particular to alleged inequalities in assessments. One of his moves after election was to bring charges of inequality in assessments against Mr. Ego, one of the assessors. After a hearing Ego was dismissed. Ego's counsel sought to have the action of the mayor stayed and retain Ego in office pending determination of the case by the Appellate Division to which an appeal must be taken for final determination.

In deciding the matter Justice Schirick handed down the following memorandum:

*Supreme Court, Columbia county.—In the matter of the application of John P. Ego, petitioner, for a certiorari order against Fred Wheeler, Mayor of the City of Hudson, defendant.

ULSTER SPECIAL TERM (April, 1936)

Coffin, Coffin, and Inman, Esqs., for petitioner.

R. Morel Herzberg, Corporation Counsel, for respondent.

MEMORANDUM (Schirick, J.)

This is an application for an order of certiorari to review petitioner's removal from the office of assessor, and also for a stay of all proceedings by the respondent pending the determination of the certiorari proceeding by the Appellate Division. The respondent does not contest the motion for an order of certiorari, but moves to vacate the stay heretofore granted ex parte herein, and opposes the motion for a further stay.

The stay heretofore granted should be vacated, and the motion for a further stay denied. People, ex rel Croker, v. Sturkis, 39 Misc. 448, People ex rel Loevin v. Griffin, 184 App. Div. 523. The order of certiorari should be granted.

Submit order. No costs.

THE REV. FRANK B. CRISPELL DIES IN PoughKEEPSIE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—The Rev. Frank Burr Crispell, 72, a retired Methodist Episcopal minister who died yesterday, will be buried Friday at Liberty.

Dr. Clifford A. Crispell and Dr. F. Harold Crispell, sons and physicians, survive him.

"Domine" Crispell, as he was known to a host of friends, obtained a teacher's license at the age of 12, but did not use it until he was a young man. Later he became a minister, his first charge being at Blenheim in 1892-93. He served a number of churches in Ulster county, among them Altaville, Greenfield, Modena. Other charges were Moore, West Pleasantville, Hedding Church, Poughkeepsie, Trinity Church, Beacon and Centenary, New York, being appointed to the latter in 1918. He retired from the ministry in 1921 because of ill health.

Ulster County To Be "Seventh Heaven"

county, and Kingston, the first capital of New York state, are inclined to disagree with Mr. Delany about the desirability of Father Divine's "heaven," but this remains to be proved. In the meantime, Father will continue to buy property and go about greeting those he meets with "Peace."

"I have received more than 100 letters since The Freeman carried the first story about Father Divine being interested in Ulster county properties, and my telephone has been busy all the time," said Mr. Delany. "With offers of people anxious to sell their real estate to him."

"Father Divine and I were busy over the week-end looking at properties," informed Mr. Delany, "and although no purchases were made, we expect to announce some shortly."

Interested in Chichester. Father Divine is interested in the Schwarzwald woodworking plant at Chichester, and the 50 residential buildings connected with it. Mr. Delany said he and the Father looked over the factory which employs between 50 and 60 men, and the colony with intentions of buying, but terms could not be agreed upon. He did not say what the offer of the "Arlington" was, but rumors around Kingston, among real estate men, are that the little Harlem Evangelist would pay $150,000.

All of the properties purchased so far by Father Divine were paid for in cash, according to records of the transactions.

When Father sets the cash, no one knows. He says "the spirit of the consciousness of the presence of God is the source of all supply and will satisfy every desire, and it does." The former High View House, Kingston, among real estate men, is known as the little Harlem Evangelist. Father Divine is in charge of it as a "stopover" for Brothers and Sisters arriving here to go to the farms in surrounding Ulster districts.

South Carolina farmers received $21,523,264 in rental and profit payments during the life of the AAA.

Kelder Takes High Average for the Season in the Silver Palace League

With the Half Moons holding the first place title in the Silver Palace Bowling League, second and third places and high individual average for the year were decided in the final round of games rolled Tuesday night.

Mollott's, last year's champions, captured second place last night by virtue of their victory over the Indians, taking two out of three games. Chevrolet finished up third, after going into a tie with Jack's Garage in the regular match. In the regular match Jack's Garage took three straight games, which gave them a tie with the Chevrolet. This necessitated a roll-off game, which was taken by the Chevys, 908 to 896, giving them third place in the final standings.

The big feature of interest in last night's games, however, was the result of the battle between Randy Kelder of Mollott's and Bill Mergendahl of Jack's Garage for high individual average for the season. The contest has been a close one, but was decided last night when Kelder ran up a total of 618 for his three games while Mergendahl drew a total of 596, giving Kelder an advantage over Mergendahl of a few pins on the season's average.

Grant Retains River Oaks Championship

Houston, Tex., April 8 (AP).—William Allison, captain of the United States Davis Cup team for the matches against Mexico, today assigned Bryan M. Grant and Don Budge to play the singles matches after they had wrecked his title hopes in the River Oaks tennis tournament.

Grant won his second consecutive River Oaks championship yesterday by defeating the 1935 National champion, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, 6-0. It was the first time in years that Allison had dropped the decisive set of a match without winning a game.

Hopeful of salvaging at least a share of the doubles championship, the Texas then teamed with John Van Ryn against Budge and Gene Mako, but the colorful young Californians provided too much competition. They won 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

The performances of Grant and Budge convinced Captain Allison that the singles in the Davis Cup matches with Mexico opening here Friday, Allison and Van Ryn will play the doubles.

Toffel Wins Foul Shooting Contest

The foul shooting contest at Kingston High School has ended with Ben Toffel of the post-graduate division in the lead, he having converted 19 out of 25 free throws.

Tom O'Hara and "Weave" Geisler of the same division and Francis Heltzman of the seniors were tied for second place with 18 each. The scores made in the finals were as a whole lower than those made in the semi-finals, as lights in the gym were out of order and contestants had to throw in the semi-darkness.

The complete scores:

No Basketball at Auditorium Tonight

There is no basketball game at the Municipal Auditorium tonight, this being the first Wednesday since last fall that no contest has been scheduled for the Cities Service. The Gasoliers were to play Kate Smith's Celtics, but the Shamrocks decided not to show here.

Manager Frank Morgenweck announced Monday that with the Celtic cancellation there would be no more home games for the Cities Service club, but that it would play several exhibition games on the road. Next Monday the Morgenwecks are to oppose the New York Jets in one of the games on the Red Cross relief program at the 71st Armory, New York city.

King Kong Klein's five will play the Celtics in the other. In their last home game the Kingston tappers defeated the famous Renaissance, colored champions of the world, by the score of 55-28.

Red Wings Win Second Straight from Toronto

Detroit, April 8 (AP).—Those bombarding Detroit Red Wings, practically clutching the Stanley Cup already, approached hockey's highest throne today with confidence generated by a 9 to 4 second straight victory over Toronto's Maple Leafs.

The bedraggled Leafs sought to recover from the drubbing which Manager Connie Smythe, unwilling to hazard a prediction over the third game in Toronto tomorrow night, likened to a "tornado."

Wally Kilrea netted the Wings first goal after 30 seconds of play. When Bucko McDonald sank their last one in the seventeenth minute of the final period a new record had been set for Stanley Cup hockey under the modern play-off system, dating back to the early 1920's.

Six Wings, with Johnny Sorrell, Bucko McDonald and Gordon Pettinger rapping in two goals each, divided the scoring against little George Hainsworth, veteran Leaf goalie. Hainsworth permitted four goals in the first period, two in the second, and three in the third.

Two Detroit goals midway in the second period while Toronto's "Red" Horner was in the penalty box gave them a 6 to 1 lead.

Casting aside all caution, the Leafs then played almost entirely on the offensive, matching the Wings, three goals to three.

End of Pre-season Football Practice

Coach Kias called in all football equipment at the high school Tuesday, after five spring practice sessions had been held during the past two weeks. The rainy weather has made it impossible to hold more practice sessions.

The football squad has had all the fundamentals of the game explained, but the much looked forward to scrimmage had to be given up. When football togs are donned in the fall it is probable that the varsity line-up will include: Captain on the sack, Terry figured Sam's Meagher, Harry Wilber, Pete Ceresaro and Vince Stoll in the backfield. In the line, "Jab" Nyulawey, Rocky Tedem, Johnny Spada, George Hilt, enbary, "Gal" Studer, Bud Delaney, Bill Van Eeken and Lou Voight.

Cabbage Seed Once Used as Bride's Gift to Groom

Prize cabbage seed, usually easily obtained by any gardener for a modest sum, was once guarded like a treasure and changed hands only when a bride brought some of her father's stock as a wedding gift to her husband.

This usual custom was followed in the Danish island of Amager, for nearly two centuries, observes a writer in the Indiana Farmer's Guide. Amager is a widely known vegetable culture center and it is believed that cabbage seed was first brought to the island in about 1650 when a Danish king imported some Dutch market gardeners to cultivate the island.

When one Amager family married into another, the bride brought with her a local strain of cabbage seed, but no Amager farmer would ever sell seed to a foreigner, Danish tradition has it. This tradition held until 1852 when the first Amager cabbage seed is said to have been sold.

The Song Sparrow

The American sparrow is lovable for his trilling song and for the good work done in destroying insects and weed seeds. Because he is a sparrow, he is often mistaken for the English sparrow and killed as a pest. The song sparrow haunts the ground, and the cover of bushes, hedges, and vine covered fences. His cheery call usually starts with three sharp chirping whistles, ending in a long, pleasing trill somewhat like that of the canary. His back, wings, and tail are light rusty brown, streaked with brownish black. The tail is dull brown, while the top of the head is a richer red brown. The background color of the head is gray, with a hint of brown toward the throat. The throat, breast, and underparts are grayish white, streaked with brown and blackish brown. The beak is light, grayish brown.

Work of Early Botanists

Early in the eighteenth century, before the Colonies had fought for and won their independence, a group of adventurous European botanists set out on a plant collecting expedition. They landed on the shores of Mexico and traveled inland, seeking new and interesting plant material to take back to the old country. This expedition increased immensely the number of known plant forms. The gardens of Europe were enriched for it. The discovery of one flower caused a mild furor, since it had neither kith nor kin in all the gardens of Europe. This discovery turned out to be the many-times-great-grandparent of our daisies of today.

Early Use of Word Slang

The earliest use of the word slang discovered occurs in Tolderry's "History of Two Orphans," published in 1776. A more unequivocal instance is quoted in J. C. Hotten's "Slang Dictionary" (1904), from a book entitled "Jonathan Wild's Advice to His Successor": Let proper nurses be assigned to take care of these babes of mine (i. e., young thieves) ... The master who teaches them should be well versed in the cant language; commonly called the slang parer, in which they should by all means excel. In 1762 the word is found in Foote's play, "The Orators."

Scriptural Names in England

Scattered about England are many place names of Jewish, or at least, high Israel origin. The name Jericho occurs six times on the Ordnance maps. Paradise five times, and Nibereh, Mount Zion, Mount Azeah, and Mount Ephraim three times. In Bedfordshire there is a "Cultural Wood," and in Dorsetshire a Jordan Hill. Hampshire has a Land of Noe, Cambridgeshire a Noah's Ark, and Worcestershire a Noah's Wash. Other agricultural names scattered about the country are Hutton, Joppa, Berksheim, Jerusalem, Gilead, and Beulah—22 Eze. Nags.

Denies Statements Regarding Salvage Work at U. & D. Shops

William R. Miles, of the firm of Rosman and Miles of Middletown, who purchased the old U. & D. shop, including material, for salvage and who has been in charge of the work of tearing down the buildings, in progress for several weeks past, denies the accuracy of the statements made at the Common Council meeting Tuesday night by Alderman Vogel and Lukaszewski, regarding compensation and wages paid.
As to the matter of compensation, Mr. Miles said this morning that at the start of the work he queried the Kingston Insurance agencies, but they refused to carry the risk. He then took the question up with the State Fund at Albany and was given rates that were so high—something like $3,500 for the entire job—that they were out of the question. The only alternative was to put the work on a co-operative basis, four men working together and agreeing to assume their own risks. Mr. Miles said that a number of the men stated that they were anxious to work under this plan, inasmuch as they were unemployed. Accordingly two of these co-partnerships have been formed and the eight men now working are doing so under these conditions.
The charge that the Mayor's committee had anything to do with the wage scale is denied. Mr. Miles said that on coming to Kingston he inquired as to the wage scale and found that the WPA was paying 40 cents an hour. He added that workers have since then been paid from 40 to 62 cents an hour, depending upon the hazard of the work.
Mr. Miles said that Alderman Lukaszewski was originally paid $350 a day, but was raised to $5 and was paid that until he was discharged Saturday night, because, according to Miles, of the attitude he took and remarks he made when Miles was unable to get back to the city and pay off the men before six o'clock.
The work is now about one-third completed, being behind schedule on account of the rainy weather of late.

James Lucey Is Dead
Northampton, Mass., April 8 (AP)—James Lucey, 81, shoemaker and philosopher-friend of Calvin Coolidge, died today after a long illness. Once a White House guest, Lucey came into national attention when President Coolidge wrote him from the capital: "If it were not for you, I would not be there." Lucey always maintained he didn't know why Coolidge so praised him unless it was because of their philosophic discussions which dated back to the former President's days at Amherst.

Wendel's Release Not Expected At Once Marshall Indicates

Trenton, N. J., April 8 (AP)—Official indicated today there were no immediate prospects that Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton attorney, held on a charge of murdering Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., would be released.

Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall said the grand jury's failure yesterday to consider the Wendel case left the murder charge still on the books, and prevented Wendel's removal—except by court order—to Brooklyn to assist in locating the house where he said he was held a prisoner, and forced to make a false confession to the crime.

The prosecutor said he could not tell "what might happen to Wendel," and one of the jurors, on leaving the session, remarked: "We're all up in the air." The jury will reconvene next Tuesday.

Wendel, who repudiated the "confession," was questioned yesterday by William F. McGuinness and Francis A. Madden, assistants in the office of District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan of Brooklyn. He was shown photographs of one-story dwellings in the Sheepshead Bay section of Brooklyn, where he said he was imprisoned and tortured until he "confessed."

The New Jersey legislature, which thought it had disposed of all the moves for an investigation of the Bruno Richard Hauptmann case by defeating two resolutions Monday night, may have to vote on the proposal again Monday.

Assemblyman Basil B. Bruno, foe of the governor, announced he would introduce a resolution calling for an investigation of the case from "start to finish," including the activities of Governor Harold C. Hoffman, Attorney General David T. Wilentz and the state police.

Petitions were being circulated in Trenton asking Governor Hoffman to order an investigation by a non-political committee of the activities of the state police, Attorney General Wilentz, Prosecutors Anthony M. Hauck, Jr., and Erwin E. Marshall of Hunterdon and Mercer counties, respectively, and Ellis H. Parker, chief of the Burlington county detectives. The names of the persons behind the proposed investigation were not disclosed.

In Brooklyn last night, Geoghan said an automobile license number written inside of Wendel's vest was registered in the name of Gustav Lockwood, a New Jersey motor vehicle inspector.

Wendel said the number was that used on a car which accompanied the automobile in which he claimed he was taken from Mt. Holly, N. J., to a mental hospital on February 24.

A meteor seen in the skies recently dropped into the Atlantic off the New Jersey coast. This ought to be a lesson to those brilliant and shining young politicians.

FORD V8
It took more than just good performance to win over 2,500,000 Ford V-8 fans in less than four years. It's an entirely different kind of performance that did it! It's the V-8 engine, first and foremost. The smoother flow of its 83 horsepower. Its pick-up in traffic. Its easy pull in the open and up the hills. For you can't expect any less modern engine to feel like a V-8. And you don't find another V-8 below $1645.
Then there's riding comfort. Ford springbase is 12" — almost a foot longer than wheelbase. You'll quickly feel the edge this gives a Ford on cars near its size and weight. Next, there's a type of chassis in the Ford not found anywhere else in the world today. That's why a Ford "keeps its feet" so remarkably on turns and over rough roads.
